Excerpt: . learning of his having absconded, wrote to defendant s agent at St. Louis asking if the application had been approved and if so when he might expect the bond. He said nothing as to what he had learned about Clary. Several days later, on October 4th, plaintiff wrote to defendant at Philadelphia asking if the application had been approved and what was causing the delay, and if it was for lack of replies from references he could perhaps assist in getting such replies. In this letter plaintiff also failed to state that he had information that Clary had absconded. It was in answer to this last letter that defendant wrote under date of October 6th that it had sent the bond on October 4th and had not sent it sooner because of the impression spoken of above and expressing regret at the delay....
